

A student behaves in a disruptive manner in the classroom setting.
As stated in the KSU Student Codes of Conduct:
Disruptive Behavior - Substantial disruption of University operations including obstruction of teaching, research, administration, other University activities, and/or other authorized non-University activities which occur on campus

General Disruptive Behavior
No immediate threat of danger is present

Severely Disruptive/Dangerous Conduct

Scenario 1 – Non-continuous behavior

- Faculty member/Instructor address the behavior in the classroom, and asks for it to end. Disruption ends.
- Faculty member/Instructor may document the interaction by following up with the student via email or in person.

- Student’s conduct poses imminent danger
- Call KSU Police at 470-578-6666 immediately
- Immediate threat is resolved
- Witnesses (faculty, staff, students, etc.) submit a “Red Flag Report”
- Follow-up will be provided by the Behavioral Response Team and/or Department of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity staff

Scenario 2 – Continuous behavior

- Faculty member/Instructor address the behavior in the classroom, and asks for it to end.
- Student(s) continue behavior that obstructs the teaching, researching, administration, or other university activities.
- Faculty member/Instructor requires specific criteria of behavior (not speaking for remainder of class, leave class or office immediately, etc).
- Student(s) do not comply
- Faculty member/Instructor may ask student to leave or may call KSU Police for assistance.
- Once concern is resolved a “Red Flag Report” is submitted by the Faculty member/Instructor
- Follow-up will be provided by the Behavioral Response Team and/or Department of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity staff
